Delamore, an imposing house set on the fringes of Dartmoor, was built in 1859. The superb gardens, rarely open to the public, have undergone major restoration in recent times. Seen at their best during May, they are an ideal backdrop for sculpture, while large, light rooms make a perfect gallery for paintings and other artworks.

Visitors are welcome to browse and perhaps purchase one of the many pieces created by local, national and international artists.

Superb works from over 150 sculptors and painters are displayed in the house and gardens and, via a short walk, visitors can view the South West Academy exhibition at the Stables Gallery. There can be few better settings than Delamore in which to admire new work by some of our finest artists.

Artworks featured: Front of flyer: 'Hope' by Anne- Marie Moss Left: 'All at Sea' Marie-Noelle Davies; right: 'The Story Teller, Vinnie Nylon.

Refreshments available at the Delamore Kitchen Café and also at the recently reopened Cornwood Inn nearby subject to Covid restrictions
